United Way Success By 6 and Community Action Partnership are teaming up to bring a morning of Conscious Discipline to St. Joseph. Participants will attend either a session focusing on preschoolers with Jill Molli or a session focused on infants and toddlers with Shana Schmidt. Both sessions will run from 8:00 to noon. Sign up today to ensure your spot!

The Presenters:

Jill Molli has a B.A. in Elementary Education and a Masters in Counseling. She possesses the gift of delivering this important message of Dr. Becky Bailey's Conscious Discipline program with humor which makes for a wonderful learning experience. Jill was selected as a Loving Guidance Associate because of her no-nonsense ability to get to the heart of a situation plus her commitment to living Conscious Discipline principles at school and at home. Jill's experience includes delivering state and national keynotes, teaching children with behavior disabilities, teaching elementary school and serving as a guidance counselor. Jill is a contagious source of enthusiasm for and knowledge about Conscious Discipline.

Shana Schmidt has over 20 years of experience working with challenging behaviors in homes and schools. After receiving her Master's Degree in mental health counseling in 1997, Shana worked in the foster-care system and quickly noticed how early-relationships affected a child's success. As a Conscious Discipline® Certified Instructor since 2005, Shana found her heart and continues to be a learner of the Skills. Shana's life passion is relationships. Whether it be playing 'mommy' as a young girl, cheering a team on in high-school or encouraging other adults professionally, Shana has always felt the impact of healthy support.
